Happy New Year!

To start off the first issue of The Chatter for 2013 I would like to go over everything I was annoyed with in 2012 and solutions on how to avoid these situations in the future.

1.) Twinkies! Where did they go?

How does an 87 year old company go out of business? There's talk of mismanaged money, union contracts, and employee strikes; but the number one reason Twinkies are no longer available is because I loved them. There are going to be a number of fair vendors that are going to have to find another snack to fry other than Twinkies; maybe they could fry up some Nutty Bars. The next thing that annoyed me in 2012 was the ongoing rumor that the world was going to end. If the Mayans were so good at predicting the future, why couldn't they see their own extinction? On a positive note, the folks that own gun stores have been having a great year profit wise. My only question is whether Doomsday Preppers will still be on the air after we wake up on the 22nd. The last annoying thing I will discuss is the way politicians are handling our money. The fiscal cliff is just a clever way to say that grown men and women cannot come to a compromise. Now I will tell you the solution that will introduce a little bit of sanity in our nation's capitol. Are you ready? We give free Twinkies to the politicians who work well together. Oh wait... no more Twinkies. Well I guess we will just fall right off the fiscal cliff. Maybe we will be seeing Doomsday Preppers on TV after all. Well, if you're reading this then the world didn't end, you're not eating a Twinkie, and our nation's leaders are probably voting themselves another raise at this very moment. Some things never change though; we're still selling RVs, the sun still rises and sets, and Dean is still pickin' on me.

We can't wait to have everyone back. Have a healthy and prosperous 2013!

Happy
New Year!

Please watch your speed

Attention Polar Farmers! I have had a couple different remarks about the speed at which some of you are traveling. Please keep in mind that the speed limit is 5 MPH throughout the entire campground for the safety of all who reside here. Also keep in mind that all of the staff here at Poor Farmer's RV have been given the duty of monitoring and enforcing the rules of the campground. If you are asked to slow down by one of our campground employees, please do so. Thank you for your cooperation. Let's make 2013 as safe as possible.

Charlie's Chat

Ya Know Him, Ya Love Him...

Lynn Kritzberger

I find it fitting that we start 2013 with a familiar face. Who better to be our center of attention for Charlie's Chat than Lynn Kritzberger. Lynn has been a member of the Poor Farmer's family for five exhausting years. I say exhausting because that is how we feel just from watching this guy work; from electrical to mechanical, he can get it done. Most of you already know Lynn, so I won't waste your time with basic information. Instead, I will provide you with the juicy details of the Lynn's private life. I mean, how can I call myself a journalist if I only report the news you already know? The first thing you need to know about Lynn is that he never sleeps. During the day he does his duties as a facility engineer; at night, however, he spends his time fighting crime at Poor Farmer's as the Flying Fix-it Man. You may wake up in the middle of the night to see the Flying Fix-it Man souring overhead as he defeats his nemesis, the evil Dr. Pipebreaker. Last week Dr. Pipebreaker had a devious plan to destroy all of the pipes that lead to the shower house. The Flying Fix-it Man used his super powers to cause Dr.

Pipebreaker to slip and sprain his ankle as he attempted to complete his evil plot. Lynn has reported, "That is the last we will see of Dr. Pipebreaker for two to three weeks."

Lynn... I mean, The Flying Fix-it Man spends his down time at his secret lair, "The Tool Shed." There he reloads his drill gun, sharpens his chainsaw, and recharges his golf cart batteries; so that he can be ready for whatever Dr. Pipebreaker tries next. Of course this story was just a metaphor to give you an idea of what Lynn does around the campground. When we have a problem we call our super hero, Lynn. I would like to take this opportunity to thank Lynn for always being there and watching our backs when Dr. Pipebreaker is up to no good.

Charlie's Chat is a monthly installment in The Monthly Chatter which honors Charlie Ellis. Charlie was a friend to many and one of the hardest working employees to ever grace the gravel roads of Poor Farmer's.

December Pictures

From scrumptious cookies to Grandma's birthday to all the gang gathering at the Outback for a Poor Farmer winter reunion. You will also notice the young man in the lower left corner; that is Hayden Bronne, he will be the bouncer at this Summer's Poor Farmer's events. The Picture of Amy and her family is the one that she put on her Christmas cards; so if you haven't seen this picture, you can give her thunder when you get back for not receiving a card. Finally, we have the picture located in the center right position... no comment.

SUPER RALLY SIGN-UP

APRIL 14TH DEADLINE (FIRST COME, FIRST SERVE)

As most of you already know, we are having a "Super Rally" on the weekend of April 26-28, 2013. On Friday the 26th, we will be giving you guys a great fireworks display and a hot chili dinner. On Saturday, the 27th, we will be providing you with a chicken dinner and some special entertainment. All of this is at no cost to you, however, we will be accepting canned foods and donations for the Fletcher Food Pantry for those of you who are able to donate. The only requirement of you is to have your RSVP into Mike Till, (937) 368-2449, by April 14th, 2013. That way we can get an accurate count on the amount of food we will need. Get you name in and Let's Go Campin'!
